DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to papers filed on April 25, 2005.
2. Claims 5-15 and 34 are pending.
3. Claims 5-7, 9 and 15 have been amended.
4. Claim 34 has been added.
5. Claims 1-4 and 16-33 were previous withdrawn in response to election/restriction.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 5-15 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Claim 5 states storing "learned content", the specification does not support the requirement of enabling someone to know how the device actual learned this content that is being stored. How is learned? Who teaches it? What is learned? Claim 5 further recites "determining a maturity level". It tells what might be used to determine maturity level but not how those elements are used to determine the level. Claim 8 recites a limitation "weighted comparisons". The specification discusses a "weighted calculation" but does not identify what that calculation. The specification is insufficient for one of ordinary skill in the art to make and/or use at the time of invention.

3. Prior art is not being applied to the above claims because the specification of originally application filed on May 5, 2001 does not enable the scope of the claims to be determined therefore are unsearchable.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claim 7 recites the limitation "weighted comparison" in the first line. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments filed April 25, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicants arguments that the amendments made help clarify the questions raised in the 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph rejection in the previous action. The examiner disagrees with applicant in that the concept is still the same, in order to store "learned" content it must be taught, once again coming back to how does the device learn this content...how is it taught.

Conclusion

7. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
